MANUFACTURERS' STATISTICS.

Chief Census Agent Higgins Will Begin Work To-Day.

Jerome S. Higgins, chief special agent of the industrial census of St. Louis, will gather statistics of manufacturers for the report of the twelfth census. The work will report of the twelfth census. The work will begin to-day. The St. Louis Manufucturers Association has issued a call to the manufacturers of the city, asking them to facilitate the work of the affectivity. It seems that manufacturers have tears that the private details of their business will be published, and therefore they are inclined to throw destroies in the way of the officials, it is the purpose of the Manufacturers Association to correct any such impression. Only the aggregate results from each center is published. Besides, every othical employed by the Government is sworn ficial employed by the Government is sworn to secrecy. Violation of the eath is pun-ished by imprisonment and fine. The sympathy and co-peration of very manufacturer are asked for the census. The office of the bureau is in the old Custom-bouse.

The dam was originally built at a cost of $1,000.00, but it is claimed by engineers who have examined the ruins of the structure that it can be rebuilt at a cost of exceeding $00.00. The water works and electric light and power plant, which were destroyed by the same flood, are also to be rebuilt.
